Economic Growth

- Australia’s 3Q17 GDP grew 2.8% year on year, consistent with the RBA’s expectation that growth in the Australian economy will gradually pick up over the coming year. The decline in mining investment will soon run its course. The outlook for non-mining investment has improved recently and reported business conditions are at a high level.

- Residential construction activity remains at a high level, but this is expected to slow down. Retail sales have picked up recently, although slow growth in real wages and high levels of household debt are likely to constrain future growth in spending.

- Population growth exceeded FY17 forecasts at 1.6%, underpinned by steady growth in skilled migration.

Official Interest Rates

- The RBA maintained the cash rate at 1.5%, consistent with sustainable growth in the economy and achieving inflation target over time.

- Australian government 10 year bond yields at 2.5%.

Unemployment Rate

- Low unemployment rate of 5.4% which has remained around this level over the past 18 months.
Australian Industrial Market

- Australian industrial supply is at parity with the long term average with construction activity predominantly concentrated in eastern seaboard cities. Supply additions are projected to be robust for the year-end.
- Occupier demand has been strong with year-to-date take-up levels 20% above the 10-year average.
- With Australian investment volumes remaining restricted due to a lack of on-market investment grade stock, some institutional investors are shifting up the risk curve to land purchases and secondary assets with value-add opportunities. The transactions have evidenced a tightening in secondary yields.
- Capital values have continued to climb as a result of the tight investment market and benefits of increased public infrastructure investment, particularly in Sydney’s Outer West.

Melbourne Industrial Market

- Supply: Supply levels are increasing toward the previous peak of construction cycle (in 2008) with a further 278,400m² of space projected to complete in 2017, largely driven by pre-commitment.

- Demand: Logistics and wholesale trade industries are driving the occupier market, with strong take-up of existing vacancies and 50% of the space leased in the West in 3Q17.

- Rents: Net absorption has been strongest in the West and the South East, resulting in an increase in prime net face rents although incentive levels remain high in these locations.

- Vacancy: Vacancy levels are falling and on course for a return to the long term average, as a result of strong absorption for existing vacancies together with new stock predominately leased prior to completion.

Supply: Few projects completed in 3Q17 and supply levels are below the long term average; year-to-date volumes total 353,600m², which remain relatively high compared to other markets (except for Melbourne).

Demand: While leasing activity was subdued following a strong first half result, take-up levels over the year to 3Q17 are above the 10-year average, largely driven by third-party logistics players and retailers. The Outer Central West remains the most sought-after market, buoyed by leasing activity in Wetherill Park and Eastern Creek.

Rents: Prime existing net rents have continued to strengthen and the average Y-o-Y rental growth of 4.7% is the strongest in the past 10 years.

Vacancy: Vacancy across the market is recorded at its lowest level.

Brisbane Industrial Market

- Supply: Supply levels are marginally above the long term average after a comparatively slow start to the year, largely due to strong pre-commitment activity.

- Demand: Take-up levels have exhibited improvement over the September quarter (totalling 204,200m²) with most of the transactions recorded in the southern precinct, which is above average quarterly absorption.

- Rents: Prime net face rents have continued to track sideways (especially in the northern precinct); elevated incentives have persisted as a result of developers aggressively competing for pre-lease deals together with tenants seeking to offset relocation costs.

- Vacancy: As a result of the improved occupier demand, there has been a sustained improvement in vacancy levels dominated by falling available prime space. However, the letting up periods remain lengthy which continues to put pressure on face rents.
